Introduction

[1] Irihapeti Toria ("Irihapeti") is an original owner of the Hāwea/Wānaka Substitute block ("the block"), which is subject to the South Island Landless Natives Act 1906 ("SILNA"). On 22 July 2024 I made a preliminary determination that Florence Margaret Russell[1] was not entitled to succeed to Irihapeti.[2] I referred the issue of succession to Irihapeti to the Deputy Registrar per s 40 of Te Ture Whenua Māori Act 1993 ("the Act") for a further report on the successors to Irihapeti.

[2] On 11 December 2024, the Deputy Registrar filed a report with the Court on the rightful successors to Irihapeti. It noted significant ambiguity regarding the entitled successors to Irihapeti due to inconsistent and incomplete evidence presented to the Court in historical succession applications. The report proposed three options to determine succession to Irihapeti:

(a) To determine the successors to Irihapeti per s 109 of the Act.

(b) To determine the successors to Irihapeti in accordance with tikanga Māori per s 114(1) and (2) of the Act.

(c) To vest Irihapeti's interests into a putea trust or in the other owners in the block per s 114(3) of the Act.

[3] Matters stalled then, for which the Court apologises. In early 2026, counsel for the Crown (represented through the Office of Treaty Settlements and Takutai Moana – Te Tari Whakatau) and representatives of the owners of the block filed a joint memorandum updating the Court on developments relating to the block and requesting that the Court determine succession to Irihapeti.

[4] A judicial conference was then held on 18 May 2026 to consider the Deputy Registrar's report of 11 December 2024, and the options identified in it. After hearing from the parties, the Court adjourned the application to receive submissions from Counsel on whether the Court could invoke s 109 of the Act to determine the rightful successors to Irihapeti.

[5] Counsel for Te Tari Whakatau and the Hāwea/Wānaka SILNA group then filed a joint memorandum on 12 June 2026. In essence, they submitted that the Court's task is to make reasonable efforts to identify the successors to SILNA lands. Given the context, counsel submitted that the full entitled successors for every generation from Irihapeti's grandparents cannot be realistically ascertained. Having regard to the principles and kaupapa of the Act and the interests of justice, counsel requested that the Court identify the successors to Irihapeti that it reasonably can per s 109 of the Act.

[6] After considering the submissions of counsel, on 22 June 2026 the Court requested the Deputy Registrar to provide a further report to the Court on the rightful successors to Irihapeti per s 109 of the Act. That report was provided to the Court on 1 September 2026. The parties were provided with an opportunity to comment it. Counsel filed a joint memorandum on 25 September 2026. They confirmed that the Court could proceed to determine Irihapeti's rightful successors per s 109 of the Act.

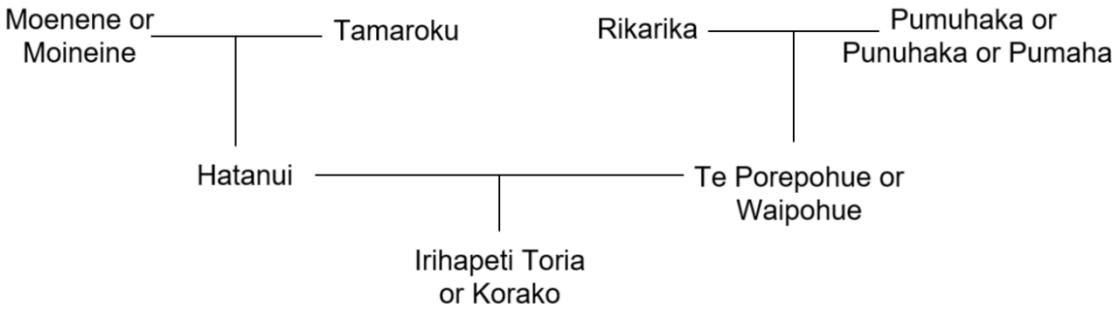
The Deputy Registrar's report

[7] The Deputy Registrar has filed a report identifying the successors to Irihapeti per s 109 of the Act ("the Report"). In essence, it traces whakapapa from Irihapeti's grandparents and identifies, from the Court record, subsequent descendants. A copy of the Report is attached as Appendix 1.

[8] For ease of reference, Irihapeti's grandparents are as follows:



[9] The Report notes various inconsistencies in evidence given to the Court for relevant historical succession applications. It makes recommendations as to how those inconsistencies should be addressed. I address those recommendations shortly. Before doing so, I comment on the relevant law.

[10] The relevant portion of s 109 of Te Ture Whenua Maori Act 1993 (TTWM Act) provides:

> 109 Succession to Maori freehold land on intestacy
> (1) Subject to subsection (2), on the death intestate of the owner of any beneficial interest in Maori freehold land, the persons primarily entitled to succeed to that interest, and the proportions in which they are so entitled, shall be determined in accordance with the following provisions:
> (c) where the deceased leaves no issue and no brothers and sisters, the persons entitled to succeed shall be ascertained always by reference to the derivation of entitlement by the deceased and shall be the issue, living at the deceased's death, of the person nearest in the chain of title to the deceased who has issue living at the deceased's death, that issue to take through all degrees, according to their stocks, in equal shares if more than 1.

[11] In Wati – Estate of Thomas Winitana Nuku Solomon, the Māori Land Court commented on the application of s 109 of TTWM Act as follows:[3]

3 Wati – Estate of Thomas Winitana Nuku Solomon (2018) 66 Tākitimu MB 176 (66 TKT 176) at [7].

Section 109 deals with succession on intestacy. Section 109(1) prescribes the persons who are entitled to succeed on intestacy. Those primarily entitled to succeed on intestacy are the children of the deceased. If the deceased did not have children, the siblings of the deceased are entitled (including those of half-blood if they are descended from the parent or other ascendant through whom the deceased received their entitlement). Failing that, the successors are to be ascertained by reference to the derivation of the interests concerned to the persons nearest in the chain of title.

[12] Section 455 of Ngāi Tahu Claims Settlement Act 1998 provides:

455 Miscellaneous matters to give effect to SILNA redress

(1) The Minister of Māori Affairs and the Maori Land Court may undertake any actions prescribed for them in section 15 of the deed of settlement, notwithstanding the fact that the SILNA lands, or land being dealt with in substitution for a SILNA land, are not Māori freehold land.

(2) The Maori Land Court may give notice in the Panui of every Maori Land Court District, and in such other way as the Maori Land Court considers appropriate, in order to identify the successors to the SILNA lands in accordance with clauses 15.6.2 and 15.6.3 of the deed of settlement.

(3) For the purposes only of clauses 15.6 and 15.7 of the deed of settlement, the successors to a SILNA land are, in relation to that land, deemed to be owners—

(a) within the meaning of section 170 of Te Ture Whenua Maori Act 1993, for the purposes of that Act; and

(b) within the meaning of regulation 2 of the Maori Assembled Owners Regulations 1995, for the purposes of those regulations.

(4) If the successors to a SILNA land do not make a decision in accordance with the procedures set out in the Maori Assembled Owners Regulations 1995 to adopt any one of the options listed in clause 15.7.5 of the deed of settlement, they must be deemed to have chosen the option which received the most votes in accordance with those procedures.

(5) The recording officer of each meeting of successors to a SILNA land must report to the Minister, under the procedure set out in regulation 48 of the Maori Assembled Owners Regulations 1995, the decisions of the successors made under clause 15.7.2 or clause 15.7.4, and clause 15.7.5 of the deed of settlement.

(6) The Registrar may (and must, upon instruction from the Minister) take such steps as are necessary on the Registrar's part to give effect to section 15 of the deed of settlement.

[13] Clauses 15.6.1-15.6.3 of the Ngāi Tahu Deed of Settlement state:

15.6.1 Maori Land Court to Identify Successors

Te Runanga and the Crown agree that, within 10 Business Days of the Settlement Date the Crown, through the Minister of Maori Affairs, in order to identify all

Successors, will refer the matter to the Maori Land Court for inquiry and report pursuant to section 29 of the Te Ture Whenua Maori Act 1993.

15.6.2 Manner of Identifying Successors and Their Interest in the SILNA Lands

Te Runanga and the Crown agree that the Crown, through the Minister of Maori Affairs, will request the Maori Land Court, pursuant to section 29 of the Te Ture Whenua Maori Act 1993, to identify all of the Successors and their relative beneficial interest in the SILNA Lands by identifying all persons entitled to succeed to the interest of an Original Beneficiary in the SILNA Lands as if section 109 of the Te Ture Whenua Maori Act 1993 applied to the Original Beneficiary, and to every Successor to the Original Beneficiary, upon his or her death (notwithstanding that he or she may not have died intestate and that the SILNA Lands are not Maori freehold land) up until the date of the Maori Land Court's determination in accordance with this clause 15.6.2.

15.6.3 Further Manner of Identifying Successors

Te Runanga and the Crown agree that the Crown, through the Minister of Maori Affairs, will request the Maori Land Court, pursuant to section 29 of the Te Ture Whenua Maori Act 1993, to identify all of the Successors to the SILNA Lands in accordance with section 114 of the Te Ture Whenua Maori Act 1993 if, in respect of an Original Beneficiary, the Court is of the opinion that no person is primarily entitled to succeed to that Original Beneficiary's interest in a SILNA Land in accordance with clause 15.6.2.

[14] Section 2 of the Act sets out general guidance on interpreting the Act. Subsections (1) and (2) provide:

> (1) It is the intention of Parliament that the provisions of this Act shall be interpreted in a manner that best furthers the principles set out in the Preamble.
> (2) Without limiting the generality of subsection (1), it is the intention of Parliament that powers, duties, and discretions conferred by this Act shall be exercised, as far as possible, in a manner that facilitates and promotes the retention, use, development, and control of Maori land as taonga tuku iho by Maori owners, their whanau, their hapu, and their descendants, and that protects wahi tapu.

[15] The Preamble states:

> Nā te mea i riro nā te Tiriti o Waitangi i motuhake ai te noho a te iwi me te Karauna: ā, nā te mea e tika ana kia whakaūtia anō te wairua o te wā i riro atu ai te kāwanatanga kia riro mai ai te mau tonu o te rangatiratanga e takoto nei i roto i te Tiriti o Waitangi: ā, nā te mea e tika ana kia mārama ko te whenua he taonga tuku iho e tino whakaaro nuitia ana e te iwi Māori, ā, nā tērā he whakahau kia mau tonu taua whenua ki te iwi nōna, ki ō rātou whānau, hapū hoki, a, a ki te whakangungu i ngā wāhi tapu hei whakamāmā i te nohotanga, i te whakahaeretanga, i te whakamahitanga o taua whenua hei painga mō te hunga nōna, mō ō rātou whānau, hapū hoki: ā, nā te mea e tika ana kia tū tonu he Kooti, ā, kia whakatakototia he tikanga hei āwhina i te iwi Māori kia taea ai ēnei kaupapa te whakatinana.

> Whereas the Treaty of Waitangi established the special relationship between the Maori people and the Crown: And whereas it is desirable that the spirit of the exchange of kawanatanga for the protection of rangatiratanga embodied in the Treaty of Waitangi be reaffirmed: And whereas it is desirable to recognise that land is a taonga tuku iho of special significance to Maori people and, for that reason, to promote the retention of that land in the hands of its owners, their whanau, and their hapu, and to protect wahi tapu: and to facilitate the occupation, development, and utilisation of that land for the benefit of its owners, their whanau, and their hapu: And whereas it is desirable to maintain a court and to establish mechanisms to assist the Maori people to achieve the implementation of these principles.

[16] Section 455 of the Ngāi Tahu Claims Settlement Act 1998 contemplates that the Māori Land Court will identify the successors to SILNA lands. The Ngāi Tahu deed of settlement requires the Court to identify all of the successors and their relative beneficial interest in the SILNA lands by identifying all persons entitled to succeed to the interests of an original beneficiary in the SILNA lands as if section 109 of the Act applies. Section 109 of the Act sets out the persons primarily entitled to succeed to any beneficial interest in Māori freehold land on intestacy.

[17] The Report identifies inconsistencies and incomplete information within the Court record to determine succession from Irihapeti's grandparents per s 109 of the Act. I adopt the following approach in addressing those issues:

(a) Section 109 of the Act must be applied in this context with the broader SILNA regime and the Ngāi Tahu settlement in mind. That context is the transfer of land to the successors of Māori who had been found to be landless at the turn of the 20th century and the historical redress for the failure by the Crown to effect that transfer.

(b) The Court's requirement to identify successors cannot be absolute in this context. This is because of the unique circumstances relating to the SILNA lands, having regard to the landlessness of Māori in Te Waipounamu that gave rise to SILNA, meaning that the associated succession records are unlikely to be comprehensive or complete.

(c) SILNA was intended to address landlessness and failing to make orders because of a lack of some evidence would prejudice those identifiable successors, resulting in the very landlessness that the SILNA aimed to address.

(d) It cannot be that the Court must identify all successors to an unreasonably high standard of perfection, or otherwise to a standard that is unrealistic in the circumstances. It is reasonable for the Court to make determinations simply on the basis of available evidence, on the balance of probabilities.

(e) The principles and kaupapa of the Act suggest that, where, through reasonable efforts, the Court identifies persons who are primarily entitled per s 109 of the Act, the Court should make appropriate orders so as to promote the retention of land in the hands of its owners, their whānau and hapū.

(f) The interests of justice favour the Court making determinations and appropriate orders so that entitled successors can exercise, and benefit from their rights as owners.

Ngā uri whakahekenga a Moenene
The descendants of Moenene

[18] Having regard to and for the reasons set out in the Report, I make the following determinations:

(a) On the balance of probabilities, Te Ani and Te Au are the same person.[4]

(b) The siblings of Moenene who left surviving issue are either:

(i) Te Au/Te Ani, who left Toetoe and Haua; or

(ii) Toetoe and Haua themselves.

[4] The Deputy Registrar's earlier report of December 2024 speculated that, to reconcile the whakapapa evidence given at 2 SI 229-230 (dated 26 October 1886) and 3 SI 82 (dated 11 November 1886) with 16 SI 116-118 (dated 14 January 1909), Te Ani's generation has been omitted, or incorrectly recorded as Te Au, thereby merging Te Ani's generation with Moenene's generation. The Report indicates that it is reasonable to conclude that Te Au and Te Ani are the same person, and that one is a misspelling or an alias.

(c) The whakapapa evidence given at 2 South Island MB 94-95 (dated 2 November 1885) is not followed because it is less consistent with other evidence, noting that this finding is not an assessment of the truth of the evidence given on 2 November 1885, nor does it affect the validity of the Court decision made then.

[19] I therefore adopt the recommendation in the Report as to the entitled successors to Moenene, with substitution of issue.

Ngā uri whakahekenga a Tamaroku
The descendants of Tamaroku

[20] Having regard to and for the reasons set out in the Report, I make the following determinations:

(a) On the balance of probabilities, the whakapapa evidence given at 2 South Island MB 94-95 (dated 2 November 1885) and 2 South Island MB 236-237 (dated 26 October 1886) incorrectly recorded that this evidence related to Tamaroku, when it was in fact evidence related to Moenene.

(b) The entitled successors to Tamaroku under s 109 of the Act are therefore Tamaroku's surviving siblings, being Putahi (also known as Ngamate) and Tuke (also known as Tuki).

[21] I therefore adopt the recommendation in the Report as to the entitled successors to Tamaroku, with substitution of issue.

[22] The Report notes that number 1355, Kara Maaka, was legally adopted out. However, at 17 Te Waipounamu MB 45-48 dated 5 February 2013, Kara Maaka was included as a successor to Christine Reuben. I follow this previous decision to include Kara Maaka as a successor to Irihapeti.

Ngā uri whakahekenga a Rikarika
The descendants of Rikarika

[23] Having regard to and for the reasons set out in the Report, I consider there is insufficient evidence to identify Rikarika's entitled successors.

[24] I therefore adopt the recommendation in the Report that Rikarika's interests should remain in their name until such time as further evidence can be provided to identify their entitled successors.

Ngā uri whakahekenga a Punuhaka
The descendants of Punuhaka

[25] As set out in the Report, there is no recorded whakapapa in the Court record to identify the parents or siblings of Punuhaka also known as Pumaha. The Ngāi Tahu Whakapapa Unit also does not hold any record of Punuhaka. The Registrar has also not been able to identify Punuhaka in any census, nor in the Paper's Past historical search, in Te Kāhiti o Niu Tireni, nor any whakapapa recorded online through heritage websites. Therefore, any surviving issue from Punuhaka's potential siblings are not presently ascertainable to the Court.

[26] As no surviving issue of Punuhaka's siblings can be identified at this time, the shares received from Irihapeti should remain with Punuhaka, until such time as further evidence can be provided to identify their entitled successors under section 109 (being any surviving siblings).

Ngā ōta
Orders

[27] Per section 109 of Te Ture Whenua Māori Act 1993, I determine that the persons entitled to succeed to the interests of Irihapeti Toria (also known as Toria Irihapeti or Irihapeti Korako), an original beneficiary of the Hāwea/Wānaka Substitute SILNA block with 50 shares, are the persons listed, in the respective proportions set out, in the tables of the Report.

APPENDIX 1: DEPUTY REGISTRAR REPORT IDENTIFYING THE SUCCESSORS TO IRIHAPETI TORIA

File Ref: A20200005543

ENTITLED SUCCESSORS TO IRIHAPETI TORIA UNDER SECTION 109(1)(C)

Subject:	Toria Irihapeti or Irihapeti Toria or Irihapeti Korako - Succession to Hawea/Wanaka Substitute land (being Section 2 of 5, Block XIV, Lower Wanaka Survey District) - South Island Landless Natives (SILNA) Block
Legislation:	Sections 29 and 113, Te Ture Whenua Māori Act 1993 Clause 15.6.2, Ngāi Tahu Deed of Settlement 1997 Section 455(1), Ngāi Tahu Claims Settlement Act 1998
Previous Evidence:	72 Te Waipounamu MB 94-106 dated 30 June 2021 82 Te Waipounamu MB 226-228 dated 17 August 2023 88 Te Waipounamu MB 271-289 dated 22 July 2024 104 Te Waipounamu MB 260-261 dated 18 May 2026 105 Te Waipounamu MB 248-256 dated 18 May 2026

SUMMARY

At 104 Te Waipounamu MB 260-261 and 105 Te Waipounamu MB 248-256 dated 18 May 2026, the Court adjourned the above matter pending filings from Counsel as to whether a determination could be made under section 109(1)(c) of Te Ture Whenua Māori Act 1993 ("the Act") relating to the succession to Toria Irihapeti or Irihapeti Toria or Irihapeti Korako ("Irihapeti"). Submissions were filed by Counsel and referred to His Honour on 12 June 2026.

Subsequently, on 22 June 2026, His Honour Judge Stone requested the Deputy Registrar to prepare, based on the previous report completed by the Registrar pursuant to section 40 of the Act ("the Report"), a summary of the entitled successors under section 109(1)(c) and setting out where any decisions need to be made in respect of conflicting evidence before the Court.

ENTITLED SUCCESSORS UNDER SECTION 109(1)(C)

As established by the Report, Irihapeti died without leaving surviving children or siblings. Irihapeti is an original beneficiary of the Hāwea/Wānaka Substitute SILNA block. She does not derive her interests from either parent, nor does she have any immediate family who were also original beneficiaries in the subject land. On this basis, the Report recommended her entitled successors not favour either parental line but consider both in equal measure.

As shown in the Report, Irihapeti's parents, Hatanui and Te Porepohue (also known as Waipohue), left no surviving or entitled children or siblings. Irihapeti's next of kin are therefore her four grandparents, with substitution of surviving issue where identifiable.

Hatanui is the child of Moenene and Tamaroku as shown at 11 South Island MB 104 dated 91-92 dated 17 October 1904 (and recreated at 69 South Island MB 1760-180 dated 9 October 1987). Te Porepohue is the child of Rikarika and Punuhaka as shown at 5 South Island MB 226-227 dated 7 March 1887.

Therefore, the entitled successors to Irihapeti are her four grandparents as follows:

	Name	Proportion	Shares
1	Moenene also known as Moineine	~~1/4~~	12.5
2	Tamaroku	~~1/4~~	12.5
3	Rikarika	1/4	12.5
4	Punuhaka also known as Pumuhaka	1/4	12.5

Substitution of issue for each of them will be to their siblings, following intestacy. This is because it has already been established in the Report that their children (being the siblings of Irihapeti's parents) have no surviving or entitled lines of descent.

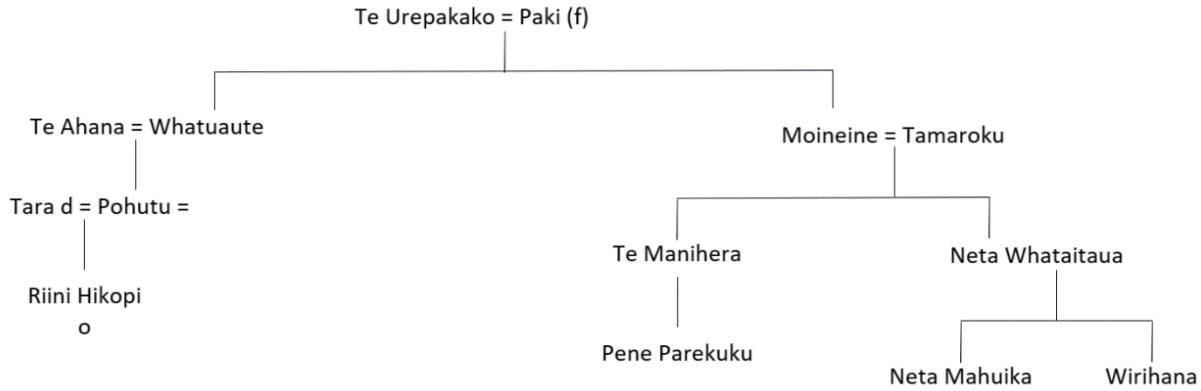
In accordance with clause 15.6.2 of the Ngāi Tahu Deed of Settlement, entitlement to the Hāwea/Wānaka Substitute SILNA land must follow intestacy under section 109 of the Act. As such, for all the substitution of issue below, in accordance with the law, the successors do not include children who were determined as whāngai. Children who were legally adopted in have been included and children who were legally adopted out after the enactment of the Adoption Act 1955 have not been included.

SUBSTITUTION OF ISSUE FOR NO. 1 MOENENE

Evidence

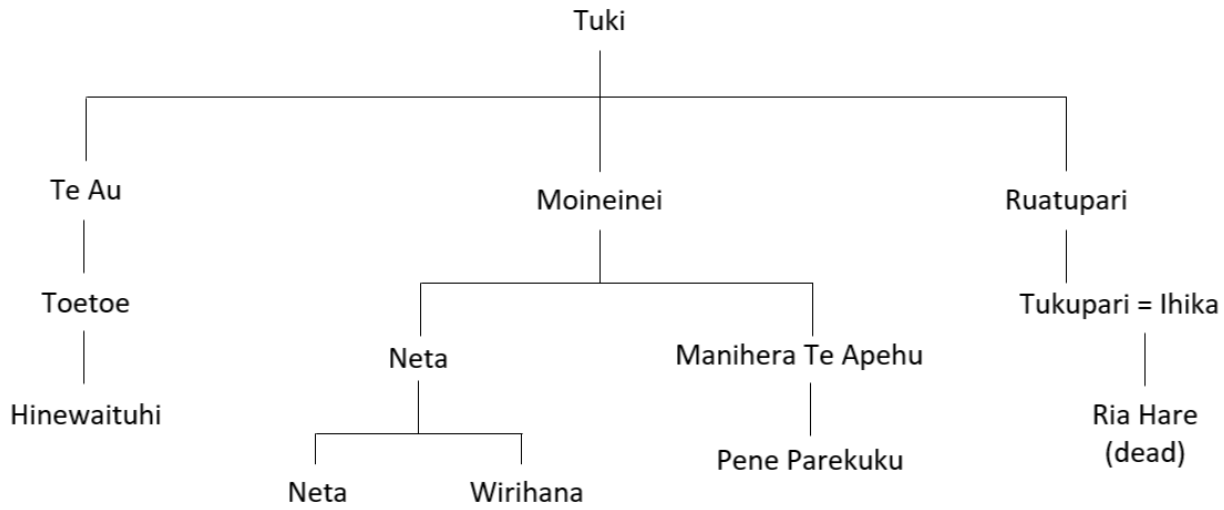
There are four succession matters in which whakapapa evidence is given as to the parents of Moenene within the Court record. These are, in chronological order:

1. 2 South Island MB 94-95 dated 2 November 1885 (Succession to Riini Hikopi) ("2 SI 94-95"):



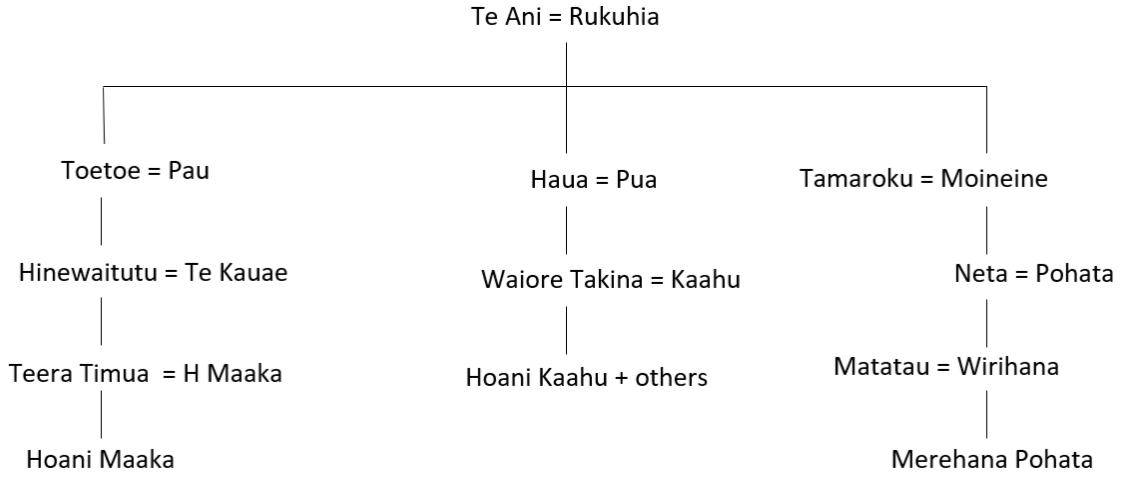
This shows evidence sworn by Neta Mahuika (the granddaughter of Moenene), recording the parents of Moenene as Te Urepakako and Paki. This whakapapa records one sibling of Moenene, being Te Whatuaute, which based on this evidence, had no surviving issue (the subject deceased (Riini Hikopi) being his granddaughter). There were various challenges to the evidence regarding the entitled successors to Riini Hikopi, and the order was cancelled the next day. However, this cancellation did not affect the issue of Moenene, who were included as part successors, alongside another whanaunga of Riini Hikopi recorded by one of the challengers.

2. 2 South Island MB 229-230 dated 26 October 1886 and 3 South Island MB 82 dated 11 November 1886 (recreated at 14 South Island MB 40 n.d.) (Succession to Ria Hare) ("2 SI 229-230 and 3 SI 82"):



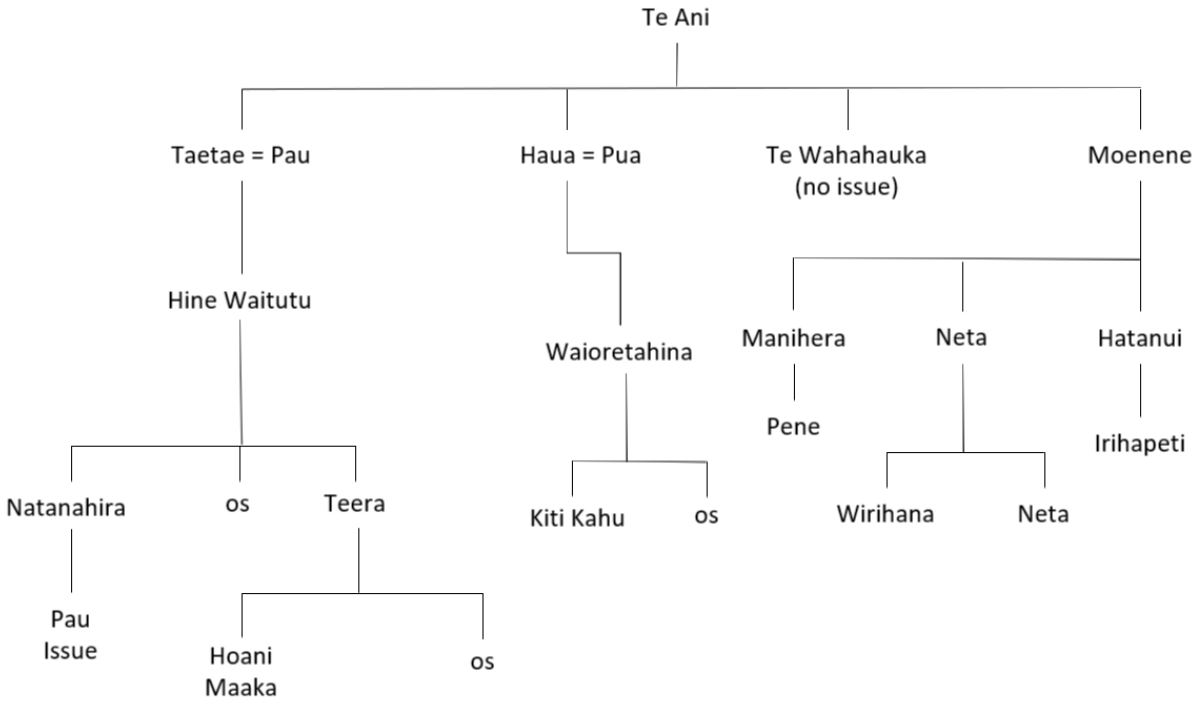
This evidence records the parent of Moenene as Tuki, and Moenene's siblings are recorded as Te Au and Ruatupari (whose line appears to be extinct). Te Au is recorded as the parent of Toetoe, who is recorded as the parent of Hinewaituhi. It is unclear who provided this evidence to the Court.

3. 16 South Island MB 116-118 dated 14 January 1909 (Succession to Wirihana Pohata) ("16 SI 116"):



This minute and the subsequent minute numbered 4 (shown below) are substantively the same. They record Moenene's parents as Te Ani and Rukuhia. The siblings of Moenene (also recorded as Moineine) are recorded as Toetoe (also recorded as Taetae), Haua and Te Wahahauka (recorded as deceased without issue). Toetoe's child is recorded as Hinewaiutu. This evidence was given by Hoani Maaka (recorded in the whakapapa as the child of Teera Timua and H Maaka), and the evidence below numbered 4 was presented to the Court by a Mr O'Donnell, whose relationship to the whānau is unclear.

4. 16 South Island MB 334 dated 11 January 1911 (Succession to Neta Mahuika) ("16 SI 334"):



Each instance refers to the same Moenene, as the descendants of Moenene recorded are the same whānau.

Analysis

To determine the entitled successors to Moenene under section 109 of the Act, a judicial decision is required to reconcile the conflicting evidence before the Court.

The deponent at 2 SI 94 is the granddaughter of Moenene, indicative of greater proximity in time and relationship to the whakapapa in question. It is also the earliest of the whakapapa given (in 1885), although the whakapapa given at 2 SI 229-230 and 3 SI 82 was presented to the Court the following year. Various whakapapa is submitted at 2 SI 229-230 and 3 SI 82, relating to different whānau, and it is unclear who submitted the whakapapa relating to Moenene. Orders were made in favour of Moenene's descendants. In each of these instances, the whakapapa given proves a connection to the respective subject deceased, who is recorded as a distant whanaunga of Moenene (at both 2 SI 94, and 2 SI 229-230 and 3 SI 82, Moenene is recorded as the sibling of the respective deceased's grandparent).

16 SI 116-118 and 16 SI 334 relate to succession to Moenene's grandchildren, being Irihapeti's first cousins. The deponent is Hoani Maaka, the great-grandson of Toetoe, recorded as Moenene's sibling. The whakapapa provided is affirmed by other parties at the hearing.

Notably, 2 SI 229-230 and 3 SI 82 have more in common with 16 SI 116-118 and 16 SI 334, compared to 2 SI 94. At 2 SI 229-230 and 3 SI 82, Toetoe is the child of Moenene's sibling, whereas they are recorded as siblings at 16 SI 116-118 and 16 SI 334. At 2 SI 229-230 and 3 SI 82, Toetoe's child is Hinewaituhi, and at 16 SI 116-118 and 16 SI 334, their child is Hinewaitutu (or Hine Waitutu).

The Report included speculation to reconcile 2 SI 229-230 and 3 SI 82 with 16 SI 116-118 and 16 SI 334:

> It is plausible Te Ani's generation has been omitted, or incorrectly recorded as Te Au, merging Te Ani's generation with Moenene, which would be consistent with Toetoe being the parent of Hinewaitutu recorded in fig. 5 and 6 [16 SI 116-118 and 16 SI 334] (and recorded as Hinewaituhi in this minute). However, this assessment is purely speculative.

While we cannot confirm this definitively, considering the two pieces of evidence, it is reasonable to conclude that Te Au and Te Ani are the same person, and that one is a misspelling or an alias.

Considering 2 SI 229-230 and 3 SI 82 with 16 SI 116-118 and 16 SI 334, Toetoe and Moenene have an undeniable connection shown by these minutes: either Toetoe is Moenene's sibling or niece/nephew. In substance, this has no tangible effect as Toetoe does not have any recorded siblings at 2 SI 229-230 and 3 SI 82, making them the sole successor in that line (as though they were Moenene's sibling).

2 SI 94 is substantially different to the other three instances of whakapapa provided. Attempting to reconcile the three with 2 SI 94, this minute does not necessarily rule out that Moenene had other siblings. It is possible the deponent in 2 SI 94 omitted other siblings of Moenene (for simplicity or other reasons), and this certainly is not uncommon in the Court record. However, it is difficult to reconcile 2 SI 94 with the other evidence, as Moenene's parents are recorded as Te Urepakako and Paki. Later in the record, at 2 South Island MB 236-237 dated 26 October 1886, Te Urepakako and Paki are recorded as the parents of Tamaroku (Moenene's partner), casting doubt over the reliability of this evidence. This evidence was also subject to significant challenge at 2 SI 94-96, although the Court ultimately made partial orders in favour of this evidence.

It is also plausible that 2 SI 94 has omitted one or more generation between Moenene and Te Urepakako and Paki, representing that Moenene is their descendant, rather than their child.

The parent recorded for Moenene at 2 SI 229-230 and 3 SI 82 is Tuki, who could be the same person as Tuke (recorded as the parent of Te Ani in whakapapa given in relation to Tamaroku at 16 South Island MB 116; Te Ani being the recorded parent of Moenene at 16 SI 116-118 and 16 SI 334). If this is the case, the difference between 2 SI 229-230 and 3 SI 82, and 16 SI 116-118 and 16 SI 334 are merely a conflation of two generations without tangible affect as discussed above.

On the basis that 2 SI 94 is substantially different from the 2 SI 229-230 and 3 SI 82, 16 SI 116-118 and 16 SI 334, I consider it less likely that the parents of Moenene are Te Urepakako and Paki, than Tuki or Te Ani. I note that even if 2 SI 94 is correct, the only sibling recorded is Te Whatuaute, who appears on the evidence given, to have no surviving issue.

If 2 SI 229-230 and 3 SI 82 is to be followed, the entitled successors would be Ruataupari, who based on the evidence has no surviving issue, and Te Au, whose child is recorded as Toetoe. If 16 SI 116-118 and 16 SI 334 were followed, the entitled successors would be Te Ani's children: Moenene (deceased without surviving or entitled issue), Te Whakahauka (recorded at 16 SI 334 as deceased without issue), Toetoe and Haua. Considering these pieces of evidence together with the view that Te Ani and Te Au are the same person, the only relevant difference between these minutes is that Toetoe has a recorded surviving sibling, being Haua. It is reasonable to conclude that Haua was omitted from the earlier evidence, as is not uncommon in the record when evidence in being given to demonstrate a particular line of whakapapa. This would reconcile the discrepancies in the whakapapa evidence given in these minutes.

On the balance of probabilities, Moenene's nearest of kin, being either the only surviving issue of their sibling Te Au, or their parent, Te Ani, are Toetoe and Haua.

Recommendation

Should the Court be of the opinion that the entitled successors of Moenene can be determined in accordance with section 109 of the Act, the following recommendations are made, based on the available evidence:

- That Te Ani and Te Au are the same person, on the balance of probabilities.
- That the evidence given at 2 South Island MB 229-230 dated 26 October 1886, 3 South Island MB 82 dated 11 November 1886 (recreated at 14 South Island MB 40 n.d.), 16 South Island MB 116-118 dated 14 January 1909, and 16 South Island MB 334 dated 11 January 1911, when read in conjunction with one another, demonstrate that the siblings of Moenene who left surviving issue are either Te Au/Te Ani, who left Toetoe and Haua, or are Toetoe and Haua themselves, as Moenene's siblings.
- That the evidence given at 2 South Island MB 94-95 dated 2 November 1885 is considered and not followed, on the basis that when read alongside and weighed against the other evidence available to the Court, it is less consistent with the other evidence available.
- That such a decision is not an assessment of the truth of the evidence given at 2 South Island MB 94-95 dated 2 November 1885, nor is it of any effect as to the validity of that decision. Merely, that the evidence before the Court with respect to the subject matter is inconsistent, and that the conclusion made here is the best available based on the evidence, on the balance of probabilities.

Finally, there is a recommendation that the entitled successors to Moenene under section 109, with substitution of issue where possible, are as follows:

No. 680, Veronica, was succeeded to at 417 Aotea MB 275-278 dated 1 July 2020. Her succession included a child who was recognised as whāngai under section 115 of Te Ture Whenua Māori Act and entitled to succeed, being Wayne Dennis Koia Manuel. Wayne is the natural child of Veronica's sister, No. 684, Theresa, who was succeeded to at 436 Aotea MB 127-134 dated 20 July 2021. Theresa's succession records that Wayne was legally adopted out. Due to the inconsistencies between these minutes, it is unclear whether Wayne was legally adopted out or not, and as such shares should remain with Veronica and Theresa, pending applications to determine their entitled intestate successors.

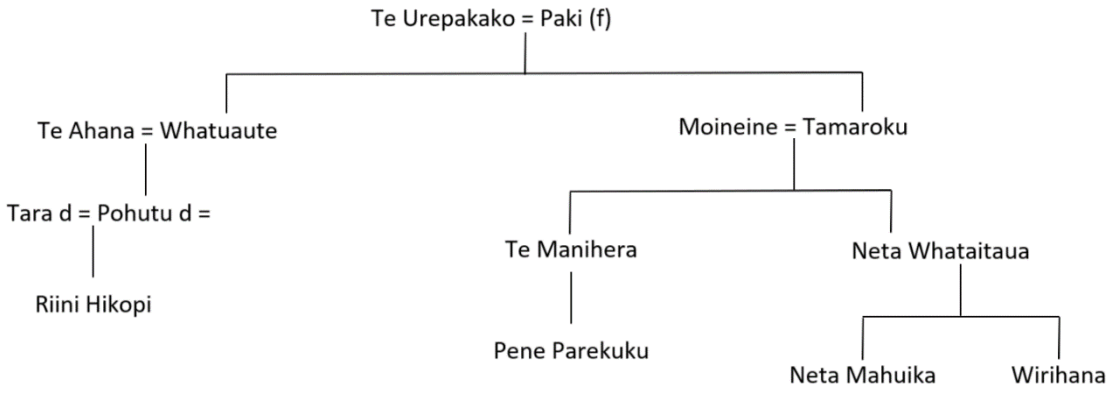
SUBSTITUTION OF ISSUE FOR NO. 2 TAMAROKU

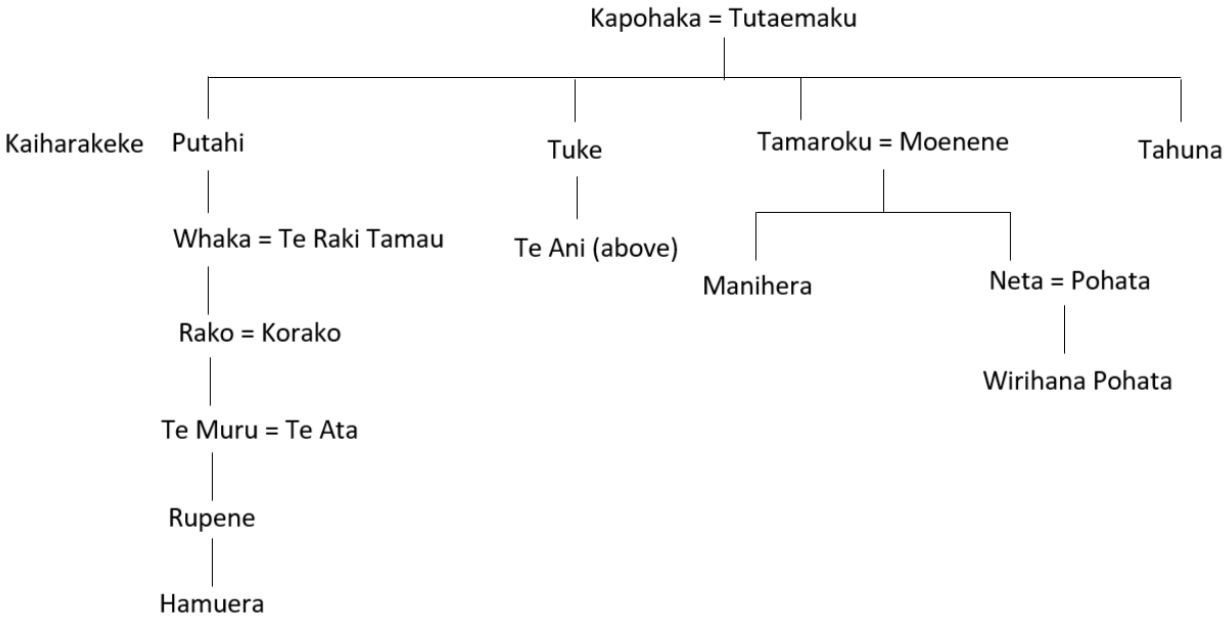
Evidence

The whakapapa of Tamaroku is provided in the Court record twice. In chronological order, the first is recorded at 2 South Island MB 236-237 dated 26 October 1886 (Succession to Neta Whataitaua or Whatataua) (which was recreated at 14 South Island MB 55 n.d.) as follows:



Tamaroku's parents are Te Urepakako and Paki, and their sibling is the Whataaute. It is unknown who provided this evidence. A Henare Mahuika appeared on behalf of the applicant, but it is unclear whether he provided this whakapapa. As noted in the Report, written next to this whakapapa on the minute is "2 SI 94". However, it is unclear if this was written onto the minute at the time or after the fact, as it is in different handwriting. 2 South Island MB 94 refers to the first instance of whakapapa given above for Moenene (Tamaroku's partner) which recorded her parents are Te Urepakako and Paki as discussed above.

The second instance of Tamaroku's whakapapa being given in the Court record is at 16 South Island MB 116-118 dated 14 January 1909 (Succession to Wirihana Pohata), which is as follows:



As shown, Tamaroku is recorded as the child of Kapohaka and Tutaemaku. Their siblings are recorded as Putahi, Tuke and Tahuna. This evidence was given by Hamuera Rupene, who is shown in the above whakapapa as the great-great-great grandchild of Putahi. As noted in the Report, Tahuna appears to be deceased without issue as there are no listed descendants of them, nor has any further succession minute to Tahuna been found.

The daughter of Tuke, being Te Ani, states 'above' next to her name in the minute. This refers to the previous whakapapa given in the minute, as discussed above in relation to Moenene. This is the same Te Ani recorded as a parent of Moenene.

Analysis

To determine the entitled successors to Tamaroku under section 109 of the Act, a judicial decision is required to reconcile the conflicting evidence before the Court.

The first evidence is given earlier. However, it may be a recreation of the evidence given at 2 South Island MB 94, which records Te Urepakako and Paki as Moenene's parents, rather than Tamaroku's. As previously discussed, it appears that if this evidence were to be followed, the only recorded sibling has died without issue.

While the evidence given at 16 South Island MB 116-118 cannot be corroborated with respect to Tamaroku's parents, the line of descent from Putahi is consistent with evidence elsewhere in the record. Putahi appears to be an alias of Ngamate, as the whakapapa given at 2 South Island MB 230 dated 26 October 1886 is consistent with the whakapapa provided at 16 South Island MB 116-118. 2 South Island MB 230 records two children through a union of Ruaharakeke (presumably the same person as Kaiharakeke) and Ngamate, being Makere and Whaka. Whaka is recorded as having Raho, who in turn had Te Muru, amongst others. Whaka's issue are also recorded at 3 South Island MB 122-124 dated 15 November 1886, including Rako. Rupene, shown as the great-great grandson of Putahi in the whakapapa given in fig. 9, was succeeded to by Hamuera Rupene and a grandchild at 22 South Island MB 40 dated 6 September 1921.

Tuke's child, Te Ani, is likely either the niece or parent of Moenene, as discussed above, meaning the surviving issue of Tuke would be No. 5 Toetoe and No. 6 Haua. While there could be a conflation of the whakapapa of Moenene and Tamaroku, it is not implausible that Tamaroku is a sibling of Moenene's parent.

The whakapapa given at 16 South Island MB 116-118 appears more reliable, on the basis that the former whakapapa appears to be an erroneous recreation of earlier whakapapa given at 2 South Island MB 94.

Recommendation

Should the Court be of the opinion that the entitled successors of Tamaroku can be determined in accordance with section 109 of the Act, the following recommendations are made, based on the available evidence:

- That 2 South Island MB 236-237 dated 26 October 1886 included a recreation of the whakapapa given at 2 South Island MB 94-95 dated 2 November 1885, which incorrectly recorded this whakapapa as relating to Tamaroku, when it was in fact in reference to Moenene, on the balance of probabilities.

- That the entitled successors to Tamaroku under section 109 are therefore the siblings to Tamaroku as shown at 16 South Island MB 116-118 dated 14 January 1909.

Finally, there is a recommendation that the entitled successors to Tamaroku under section 109 of the Act, with substitution of issue where possible, are as follows:

	Name	Proportion	Shares

No. 1029, Putahi also known as Ngamate, had the following children:

	Name	Gender	Proportion
1032	Makere or Mahere	DNI
1033	Whaka	DI	~~1/8~~

No. 1032, Makere or Mahere, the child of Putahi (also known as Ngamate), left five children as recorded at 14 South Island MB 1, 14 South Island MB 37-38 and 14 South Island MB 48 (Genealogies South Island, n.d.), being Te Ihaka or Ihika, Te Rangitakahia, Te Pu, Hapai, Kaitipu and Hinerau, the latter leaving one child, Tihitu or Tohitu. At 14 South Island 1, Te Rangitakahia and Te Pu are both recorded as having issue that did not survive. At 2 South Island MB 229-230 dated 26 October 1886, an application for succession to Ria Hare, the daughter of Te Ihaka or Ihika, is heard. Evidence given stated Ria had no surviving issue or siblings, and the next of kin given were the descendants of Makere's sibling, Whaka. The implication being that none of Te Ihaka's siblings had surviving lines of descent, and thus the shares reverted to Makere's sibling. The Court ultimately made orders in favour of Ria's other parents' whanaunga (who incidentally are Moenene's descendants). Based on the implication given by this evidence, and the fact that the Registrar has been unable to identify any further evidence relating to Makere's children, it appears that Makere's line is extinct.

1036	Rako or Raho	DI	~~1/16~~

Based on correspondence with the Ngāi Tahu Whakapapa Unit, No. 1036, Rako or Raho also had two other siblings, being Te Ruapu and Kiripukarehu. Neither of these siblings appear in the record that the Registrar has been able to identify, and there is no evidence that they are the children of Whaka. On this basis, they have not been included in the table.

No. 1041, Hinemutu, is recorded as having four children at 17 South Island MB 232-233 dated 5 July 1912. The evidence given is that she had Robert or Ropata Lowry, who left a daughter who did not leave issue. The deponent also stated there was another child, William, who was still alive, as well as two others whose names were unknown. No further information regarding these children has been identified, and the Ngāi Tahu Whakapapa Unit did not have any further information regarding them either. As such, shares should remain with Hinemutu, pending an application to determine her entitled successors being filed.

No. 1036, Rako or Raho, had the following children (2 SI 230; 3 SI 122-124):
1045	Hinetapui or Hinetapu	DI	~~1/32~~
1046	Muru or Te Muru	DI	~~1/32~~

Correspondence with the Ngāi Tahu Whakapapa Unit indicates that Rako also known as Raho had two other children, Patu and Tuhakararu, who they understand to be deceased without issue. Garven (1974-2002) records two other children of Raho, being Rairuha and Te Autuhua. However, the Registrar has been unable to identify any evidence to corroborate this, nor any reference to any of these four children in the court record. For this reason, they have been omitted from the tables.

No. 1139, Mere, was succeeded to by way of will at 31 South Island MB 267-268 dated 25 January 1943. The application for probate heard at 30 South Island MB 113-115 dated 15 January 1941 and 30 South Island MB 123-125 dated 21 January 1941 records that she had five natural children and an adopted child, Joyce Fowler, who is the natural child of No. 1144, Mary Russell. The Court acknowledged an adoption order under the Infants Act 1908 made by the Magistrate on 15 March 1916 but stated that it was “not effective as far as Mere Fowler is concerned”, referencing section 202(3) of the Native Land Act 1931. The application for succession heard at 31 South Island MB 267-268 makes reference to the will of Mere Fowler, in which she bequeathed certain Māori land interests to her “adopted son” Korako Turumaka Taiaroa. Korako Turumaka Taiaroa was not mentioned as a child of the deceased during the prior hearings of the probate application. Korako Turumaka Taiaroa is also not mentioned in subsequent successions to Mere’s further interests. Further, he succeeded to his natural parents at 33 South Island 294-295 dated 12 July 1949, and there is no mention of him being adopted out. As such, there is ambiguity as to whether he was legally adopted or not. On this basis, shares should remain with Mere Fowler or Karetai, pending an application to determine her entitled intestate successors being filed.

No. 1355, Kara Maaka, was recorded as legally adopted out of the whānau at 17 Te Waipounamu MB 45-48 dated 5 February 2013. However, after discussion in the transcript, the Court made orders following intestacy under section 113 and 118 of Te Ture Whenua Māori Act, including Kara as part successor to Christine Reuben. Christine did not leave a will and there is no evidence of a family arrangement to include Kara Maaka. In accordance with that decision, Kara Maaka was subsequently included on the interim list of successors for Hāwea/Wānaka in relation to shares received from Christine's mother. The Court's previous judgment is followed in this report to include Kara. However, should the Court not wish to follow this evidence, shares could remain in Christine's name pending a determination of her entitled successors in the Hāwea/Wānaka SILNA block.

SUBSTITUTION OF ISSUE FOR NO. 3 RIKARIKA

Evidence and Analysis

Rikarika is the parent of Waipohue or Te Porepohue recorded at 5 South Island MB 227. This minute records their parents as Maka and Tohu. Further whakapapa is given at 14 South Island MB 14, showing that Maka and Tohu also had another child, Kaikaha, who with Tehe, had Hanuku. Hanuku left issue, being Ripeka Iharaira. Succession to Ripeka Iharaira also known as Ripeka Parahu Iharaira occurred at 10 South Island MB 208-210 dated 8 June 1899 and 10 South Island MB 225 & 227-228 dated 10 June 1899. Evidence given showed Ripeka had no issue and was succeeded to by her tamaiti whāngai, Ripeka Mei Te Pori. Following intestacy, Ripeka Mei Te Pori is not entitled to succeed to potential SILNA interests of Ripeka Iharaira. As such, this line appears extinct.

Evidence received from the Ngāi Tahu Whakapapa Unit records the children of Makaa as Teira Turakina (recorded as sine prole), Tiria and Paoa. Evidence given in the Court record shows Teira Turakina as the child of Rikarika and Punuhaka, which is inconsistent with the evidence provided by the Whakapapa Unit. It is possible there are two Teira Turakina's, one being the child of Rikarika and Punuhaka, and the other being the child of Makaa and the sibling of Rikarika, or of somebody else altogether. It is possible that the evidence provided by the Whakapapa Unit omits Rikarika and Kaikaha, as their lines are extinct. However, there isn't any evidence to prove or disprove this. Further, there is no evidence to show that this Makaa is the same person as Maka, the parent of Rikarika.

The Registrar has been unable to identify any evidence in the Court record linking Tiria and Paoa with Maka or Maaka. Some of the issue of Tiria and Paoa are recorded later in the Court record, and a line of succession may be established through them should this evidence be accepted.

Recommendation

Given the degree of ambiguity in respect of this whakapapa, I consider that there is insufficient evidence to identify Rikarika's entitled successors, on the basis that their siblings as recorded in the record, being Kaikaha and Teira Turakina, did not leave surviving issue. The evidence provided by the Whakapapa Unit contradicts the evidence in the record, and there is insufficient evidence to conclude that this Maka and the Makaa referred to are the same person. As such, the shares should remain with Rikarika until such time as further evidence can be provided to identify their entitled successors (being any other surviving siblings of Rikarika, or the siblings of the descendants of Rikarika's parents, being Maka and Tohu).

SUBSTITUTION OF ISSUE FOR NO. 4 PUNUHAKA

Evidence

As set out in the Report, there is no recorded whakapapa in the Court record to identify the parents or siblings of Punuhaka also known as Pumaha. The Ngāi Tahu Whakapapa Unit also does not hold any record of Punuhaka. The Registrar has also not been able to identify Punuhaka in any census, nor in the Paper's Past historical search, in Te Kāhiti o Niu Tireni, nor any whakapapa recorded online through heritage websites. Therefore, any surviving issue from Punuhaka's potential siblings are not presently ascertainable to the Court

Recommendation

As no surviving issue of Punuhaka's siblings can be identified at this time, the shares received from Irihapeti should remain with Punuhaka, until such time as further evidence can be provided to identify their entitled successors under section 109 (being any surviving siblings).

SUMMARY

If the Court was of a mind to accept the above recommendations and make orders in accordance with section 109(1)(c) of the Act, orders could be made in accordance with the inquiry before the Court under section 29 of Te Ture Whenua Māori Act 1993 and pursuant to Clause 15.6.2 of the Ngāi Tahu Deed of Settlement and section 113 of Te Ture Whenua Māori Act 1993 (as empowered by Section 455(1), Ngāi Tahu Claims Settlement Act 1998), determining the entitled successors to Irihapeti Toria, also known as Toria Irihapeti or Irihapeti Toria, an original beneficiary of the Hāwea/Wānaka Substitute SILNA block with 50 shares, are the persons listed in the tables above in the proportions shown.
